

What's the Missing Line? #2

Conversation 1

Donald: Hillary, I need you to recommend a restaurant. I'm going to Georgetown with my friends in the evening. Are there any restaurants that you can recommend?

Hillary: Well Donald, you should go to that neighborhood Mexican restaurant somewhere close to the train station. They have excellent food and the staff is very friendly.

Donald: Do you know the name of the restaurant?

Hillary: The name is easy to remember. It is called "No Borders" because everyone is welcome. I think you will like it.

Conversation 2

Cashier: Here you are two apples, six oranges and a box of cherries. Anything else?

Hugh: No, that'll be all. Here are 5 euros?

Cashier: Okay, I'll put these in a bag and get you your change.

Conversation 3

Justin: How did you do on the math exam yesterday?

Ivy: I don't know. It was really difficult.

Justin: Yeah, some of the questions were pretty tricky, but I bet you did fine.

Ivy: I hope so. I want a good grade in this class.

Conversation 4

Diwali: I'm taking a short trip to Kyoto next weekend.

Nicole: That's a nice change from here in Tokyo. Are you going by train or by plane?

Diwali: I'm flying from Haneda Airport, because the train is too slow.

Nicole: I know what you mean. There are just too many stops.

Conversation 5

Joey: Hey Trish, how are you today.

Trish: I'm doing great. But, did you hear the news about our boss?

Joey: No, tell me about it.

Trish: He is going to leave here, and work for one of our rival companies.
